Rebels Meet Brookville Fri.

The Appomattox Rebels will meet strong Brookville High School here at the High School field Friday night at 8 p.m. After losing to a strong Nelson County High School team 39 to 0 last week end we hope a return to the home field will help inspire the team to put forth a little more effort and desire.

I would also at this time like to point out a few things which I am sure that most football fans who follow the teams year in and year out must know by now about our present team and hope you will help to inspire these young boys who are giving their all in the game by attending the games and also by shouting for the team and not making fun of these young people.

A few facts about this years team are: We lost 21 boys from last year's team. We have only one Senior boy who played regular on both offense and defense last year. We have two senior boys who played only defense last year all season. We have one boy back in the backfield from last year's team and he played in five games. The rest of the backfield graduated. At the present time we have Junior Varsity players at the following starting positions. Quarter back, half back, wingback, left end, left tackle, left guard, center, right guard. These boys lack experience and any football fan call tell you that experience is 90 percent of the game.

We have worked twice as hard with this group than any team I have ever coached and we have made some progress due to the fact we have had to play teams like Amherst with 17 Seniors, Nelson with 15 Seniors, Brookville 15 Seniors, and these are the top teams in the district. Also the game with William Campbell wasn't an upset because they only lost three players from last year's team and should have improved over last year's team. We just so happened to be caught in the middle where most teams on our schedule have had the same boys for two and three years and we have only 5 Seniors on our squad.

I am not trying to make excuses for myself because I have had many glorious years of winning teams and I expect the sour alone with the sweet. I know we have turned out some mighty fine boys here who have played football and I think character building is the most important thing along with sportsmanship in the game of football.

So bear with the young people and help them by your support and yelling because I believe we will win some games since the hardest part is just about over. Come see us play Brookville I believe the boys are ready to upset some one. I appreciate your wonderful support the past 16 years and they have been wonderful years to me.

Do You Recognize The Schoolmar'm?

The time is approximately 1912. The place: A school house of this county. Do you recognize the pupils? This old photograph was brought to the TIMES by a faithful reader. He says there are several well known citizens pictured above. Try to name them, and we'll supply more details later.

Wheat Program Called 'Insurance'

"By signing now under the 1965 wheat program, growers can assure a crop income from wheat, even with a total crop failure," J. A. Martin, Chairman of the Appomattox ASC County Committee, reminded farmers today.

"This 'insurance feature' seems to be one of the best of the many benefits the program offers," the Chairman remarked.

A grower who signs by October 2 to participate under the voluntary 1965 wheat program has merely to meet the minimum program provisions to get this income protection on his planted acreage. By meeting the minimum program requirements, he becomes eligible for certificate payments on wheat planted within his allotment. These payments are based on the farm's normal yield times the certificate payment for each acre planted up to 80 per cent of the allotment.

Certificate payments are in addition to the normal price support loans available on actual production.

"Also, complying farmers may earn diversion payments for diverting at least ten per cent of their 1965 farm allotment," the chairman explained. "They may divert up to a maximum of 30 per cent of the allotment or 15 acres, if larger."

Farmers who sign by October 2 to participate in the 1965 wheat program may change their intentions at any time before the close of the feed grain signup next March.

Another phase of the wheat program that offers the producer "insurance" is that the producer reserves the right to cancel out his contract at any time he wishes without obligation.

Mr. Martin urged farmers not to delay beond the October 2 deadline, and better still to come in right away and avoid the expected rush near the end of the sign-up period.

Local Pupils Will Help "Good Willy"

"The pupils in Appomattox County Schools are helping in the Eleventh Annual Goodwill Industries School Clothing Collection," Rev. Lewis Ovanshire, Executive Director of the Goodwill, reported today.

"Each pupil will be given a large Good Willy paper bag to take home and fill with old clothing, shoes and rags. All kinds of clothing and shoes for men, women and children are needed. They can be either clean or dirty and in any condition. Goodwill's crippled and disabled workers will clean, repair and sell the clothing and shoes. All proceeds from the sale of the clothing and shoes will be used to pay the wages of the workers and expenses of the workshops. The Goodwill is a non-profit organization." Ovenshire said.

"Appomattox County pupils will take home the Good Willy bags on October 13 and are asked to return them on October 30."

Sewage Plant Is Discussed At Gladstone

GLADSTONE — A state approved sewage treatment plant for Gladstone has been proposed and was the topic for discussion at a recent meeting held in the Masonic Building. Attending were property owners and Dr. John M. Stirewalt, assistant director of the Nelson County Health Department and William L. Rossie, Jr., regional engineer of the State Health Department.

The type of plant described involves an underground treatment tank, and a chlorine treatment house. The cost is considerably lower than cost encountered by individuals in putting in private systems.

A favorable reply has been received from the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway in regard to a request for permission to locate a plant on their land.

The Governor's Highway Safety Committee asks motorists who are going out of town to a football game to remember that traffic will be abnormally dangerous. Try to start home early, take it easy and don't drive after drinking.
